Margaret Kerstina Lindberg Johnson Photograph Album, 1930-1946

Physical Description: 1 volume (63 black and white photographic prints, various sizes)

Description: The accession is a photographic album compiled by Margaret Kerstina Lindberg Johnson, consisting of 63 black and white photographic prints including images of campus, photographs of staff, and photographic of instruments. These images include many views of the SIO pier and seawall. There is one image of Margaret Johnson and her four children standing in front of Cottage 8.

Margaret Johnson was the wife of Carl Irvin Johnson (1903-1998), who was superintendent of buildings and grounds at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography from 1929 to 1959. Carl Irvin Johnson also served as campus police officer and machinist. He fabricated and modified oceanographic instruments at SIO. His family lived on the SIO campus in Cottage 8 until 1953.
